Entrepreneur David Moritz will speak at 6 p.m. Thursday in Plaster Hall's Cornell Auditorium at Missouri Southern State University.

Moritz, the founder and CEO of Society Awards, will deliver his presentation as part of the MSSU Honors Program Lecture Series. Admission is free and open to the public.

Moritz, who holds degrees from New York University and the Cardozo School of Law, will discuss his successes as an entrepreneur as well as the importance of education as he created his businesses. In addition to Society Awards, Moritz also has launched Viceroy Creative and Ambition Beverages.
