Another business has opened in South End's Atherton Mill development. Society Awards, which designs and manufactures high-end trophies and awards, said in a news release it recently opened at 2000 South Blvd. The company said its client list includes prestigious awards programs such as the Emmy Awards and Golden Globes as well as Fortune 500 companies and well-known brands. Society Awards' new Charlotte office houses a team of account managers and C-suite executives. It chose the Queen City due to its "vibrant culture, business community and talented workforce," it said in a news release. The office is one of three for Society Awards, which has other locations in New York City and Grove, Oklahoma.
